The Heritage High School Crest consists of a diving eagle, the school mascot, grasping a banner that bears the inscription "Primus Inter Pares". This translates to "the first among equals", the school motto. The mountain scene symbolizes the valley and its surroundings. The wagon wheel represents the pioneers; the lamp, education; and the wheat, agriculture. The early and modern times are signified by the frontiersman and the astronaut. 1872 is the date of the first education started in Littleton and 1972 is the founding date of Heritage High School.

This is Heritage High School . . .

The "Welcome! Senior '77" banner (above) created by Brad Bartholomew, Ruth Hart, Matt Lepore, and Susan Montague, all seniors, demonstrates the spirit of the class of '77. Students involved in after school activities hitch a ride home on the activity bus (far right).

Our world, within a world.

Here we learned from others and created for ourselves.

Learning From Others

When the plays, sports, and dances were over, students came to the real purpose of school: learning about their world. Heritage's unique variable scheduling system allowed this learning to be reflective of a student's ambitions and made it a sharing experience between students, their friends, and their teachers.

Language Arts was more than verbs, nouns, and complex sentences, but these things were still necessary. While students in Greek Mythology were involved in a conflict between the gods, those in Poetry Appreciation could be found talking to lemons. Even while trapped in the classroom, through books, students were armchair travelers. Each of these activities provided a different insight into the English language.

Students Put Skills to Work

The Practical Arts Department offered a wide variety of classes ranging from Cooking for the Novice to Tailoring. Each class was designed to teach students things that they would need outside of school.

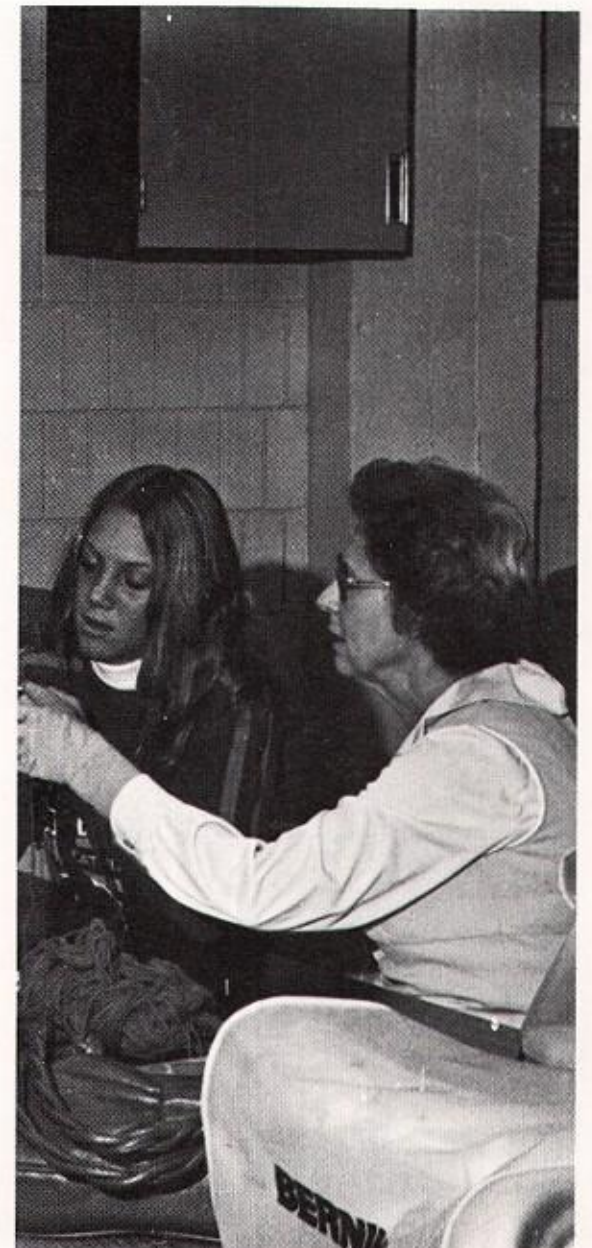

In the Business Department students experienced strikeovers of typing and the difference a few numbers make in accounting. The classes gave students an insight into the business world.

Calculations and Calisthenics Conquered

Flash cards, multiplication tables, and drawn-out scenes at the blackboard characterize past experiences in complicated mathematics. Although the tougher math classes caused many more times the confusion, the understanding of numbers became more intriguing. This understanding improved abilities to carry out many rapid calculations needed in everyday life.

Although physical education classes were required, students readily participated and enjoyed the release from the physical inactivity of the classroom. Besides satisfying the students' needs to be active, P.E. classes contributed to their physical fitness. The P.E. program was planned so individuals could explore a wide variety of sports. More variety occurred when classes went coed due to Title IX, producing competitive interaction between the sexes, not to mention a little teasing from both sides.

History and Cultural Arts

Diverse and Exciting

Cultural Arts—the title given to the most diverse group of subjects offered at Heritage. Journalists, musicians, artisans, and dramatists all were able to find a Cultural Arts subject to suit their needs. Besides fulfilling the individual's needs to learn, the department produced plays, concerts, and publications that benefited the school as a whole.

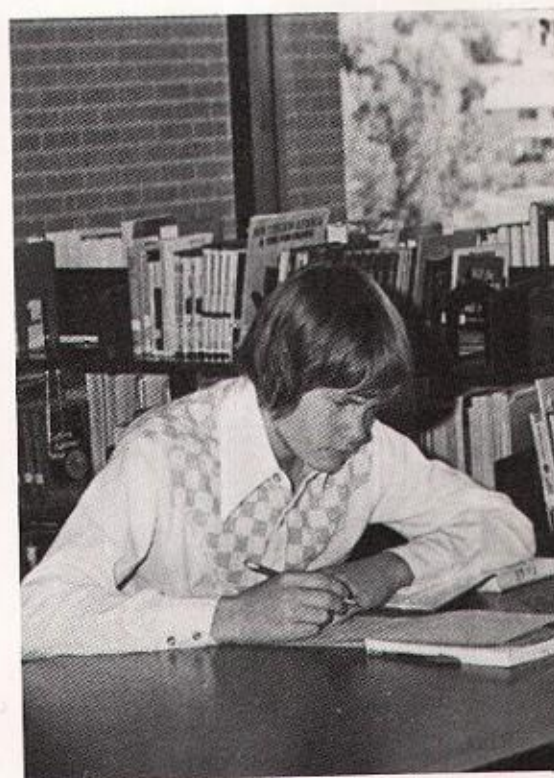

The History Department was extremely active in 1976-77. Being an election year, the American Political Behavior classes staged a school election containing the same issues and candidates that appeared on the local ballots. The survival seminar classes went on frequent field trips. Among these were backpacking in the mountains and a visit to downtown Denver. Western Civilization students showed movies pertaining to their subjects and visited a Greek Restaurant. Overall the year proved to be exciting and productive.

Harmony Results from Practice

Passing the choir room of Heritage, sounds of continuous practice and drilling were heard, under the supervision of Mr. Russell Hillock. These hours of concentration were in preparation for the numerous choir performances. The Select G # and Gb choirs sang twice at Christmas and in May; Concert Choir performed three concerts; and the Show Choir was busiest, singing for many conventions, service clubs and basically anyone who needed entertainment.

Band Students Devote Long Hours

Among the most appreciated groups at Heritage this year were the bands: Stage, Concert, Symphonic, and Freedom. Under the direction of Mr. Brent Bailey, band students put in uncounted hours of hard work and devotion, starting in the fall with marching season, and moving right into the concert season.

The bands helped to spark spirit at football and basketball games with their "pep" music and were always there when needed to provide entertainment. Marching band compiled an impressive competition record, beating all rival schools at least once.

Architecture Fits Needs

Built in 1972 and 1973, Heritage High School was planned to fit student needs and at the same time be attractive and unique. To adapt to these requirements an elevator, large theatre, lecture halls, and a three deck lunch room were designed. The spiral staircase in the two floor library made a big impression on many students.

Although not everything at Heritage was designed for a particular reason, students enjoyed little extras like the hole from third to second floor, the lobby by the I.M.C., third floor windows looking into the gym, and the pit. Many student free hours were devoted to pit life, whether they did homework, talked, or played the current pit games.

Clubs Cater to Interests

Whatever a person's interest or hobby, there existed a club that catered to their specific interest. Club members spent time doing things both constructive and enjoyable.

For those interested in the theatre, the Drama Club provided opportunities for students who enjoyed working on stage props and costumes. The Ecology Club gave students a chance to have a say in what went on in their environment; but for those who preferred exploring distant lands, the Cultural Exchange Club allowed students to find out what goes on in other countries.

- f) Gene Oden, jr., confers with Penny Stuart, soph., about the setting of the stage for "Carousel."

Various Clubs Make Use of Spare Time

Many extra hours were spent by students in both recreational and academic activities. Job problems were discussed along with planning an employer's banquet in the Distributive Education Clubs of America. Competition was encountered in both DECA and FBLA. In February, the District Competition was held for Future Business Leaders of America.

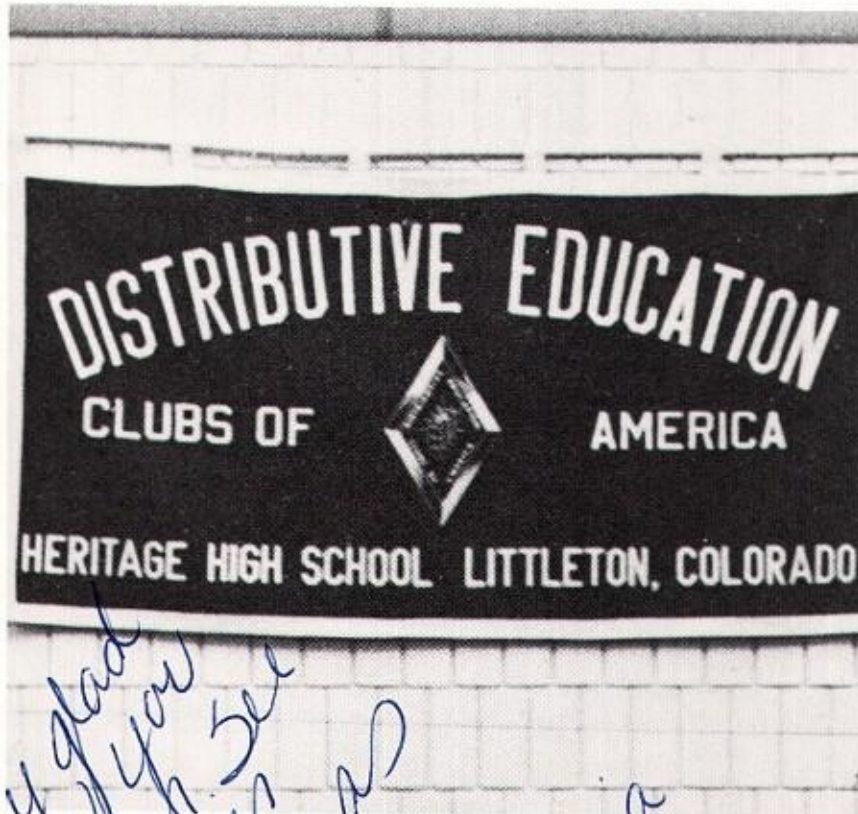

The sports minded could join Bowling Club which expanded on skills and technique.

Others got involved in Fellowship of Christian Athletes, where religion was related to sports and everyday life. The Key Club participated in the bettering of the community through service projects.

School Events Make Headlines

Each month at Heritage, interested students could be found rushing to resource centers to obtain a copy of Heritage's newspaper, the Pioneer. The staff responsible for the production of the Pioneer consisted of fifteen students, who worked four class hours per week plus numerous free hours to research and write their stories.

Five members of the staff went to Greeley for a newspaper workshop last summer, bringing back many new ideas for the Pioneer. One could find more artwork, an improved and expanded in-depth approach, and more columns as some of the main improvements.

Devotion Marks Speech Team

Many students proved their enthusiasm for oration by participating in the Speech Team. This well-organized group was under the supervision of Mrs. Linda Rydberg and Miss Pamela Maddox.

Unlike other team competitions, the Speech Team competed in two or three tournaments a month throughout the entire school year ending with the National in June. Members participated in individual events such as original oratory with one's own speech; extemporaneous speaking, knowing current affairs; and poetry, humorous and dramatic interpretation of written pieces. A workshop was held every week for members to get help with their speeches.

Officers for the Speech Team were Cindy Wilderson, president; Matt Crane, vice-president; and Lori Evans, secretary/treasurer.

Council Provides Service and Spirit

Purchase orders, voting tables, fund-raising schemes, concession stands, publicity posters . . . all of these and more constituted the less exciting tasks that were part of being a Student Council member. However, all that work and lots of enthusiasm added up to a year of activities and projects that affected almost every Heritage student.

This year Student Council organized the usual assortment of activity weeks, dances, and charity drives; plus an expanded, highly successful Spirit Week.

In representing the views and needs of the student body the Council performed more serious assignments. The Communications Board committee worked with architect Eugene Sternberg, who designed Heritage High, on plans for an enclosed bulletin board to display information concerning all students. In the face of a possible Homecoming game riot, Council representatives visited Smoky Hill High School to help calm negative sentiment towards H.H.S. In each activity and project, Student Council officers, senators, and associate members did their utmost to represent the best interests of their school and community.

Cultures Brought to HHS by Foreign Exchange

Foreign Exchange Students included Ulf Ekstedt, Lisa Hulton, Sue Crowe, and Marcella Martinez. But these were not the only people who influenced Heritage culturally. Tide, Glicia, and Julio Franco along with Markos Carvalho came from Brazil so Julio could receive therapy at Craig Center.

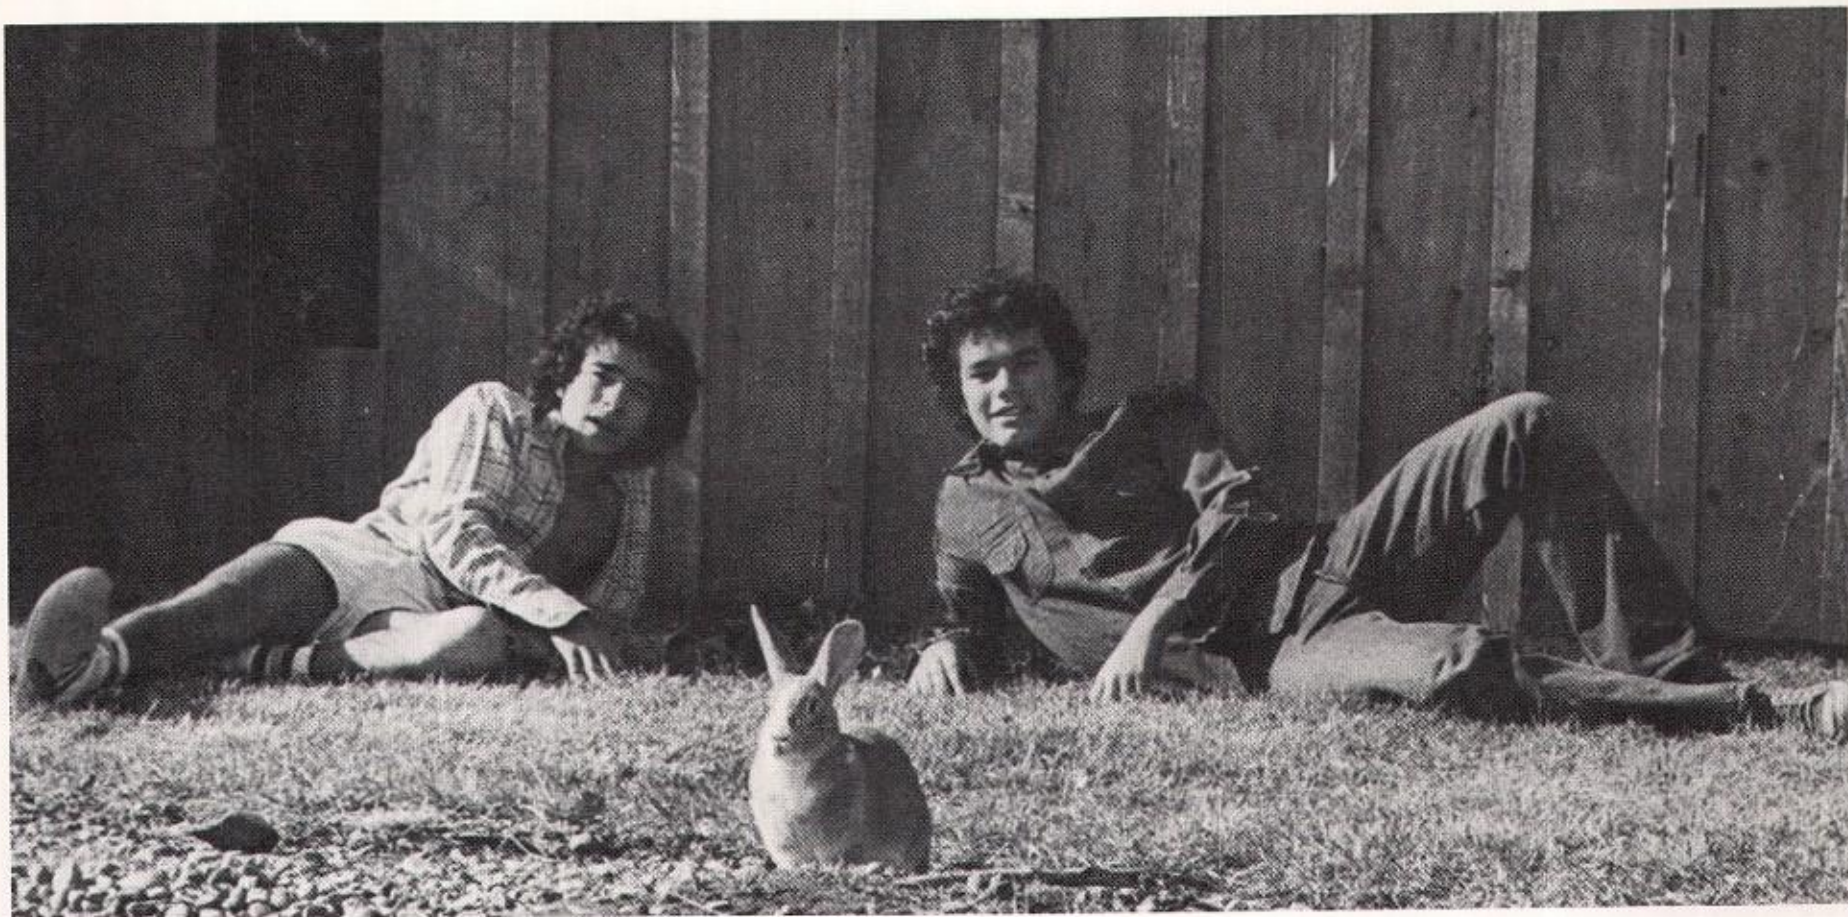

Ulf, Lisa, Sue, and Marcella came to the school through the Foreign Exchange Program. Ulf and Lisa brought the culture of Sweden with them and Sue introduced some Australian culture, while Marcella added a touch of Colombian understanding. All the students agreed that coming to Heritage was a valuable experience and they all enjoyed learning with the student body at Heritage.

Part Of The Group

Plays, canteens, Spirit Week, Prom, sock hop . . . Heritage students always found time to get together at various events for fun and entertainment. The activities were a way to relax and forget about the grind of classes and homework. From Homecoming to Graduation, there was always an activity to attend.

Groundwork Laid for School Year

Planning and organization mixed with practice were the necessary tasks which would produce that "perfect performance." Excitement grew. Cross Country and Student Council made final preparations for their activities.

Homecoming was planned, scenery was built for the first play, and routines were created by cheerleaders and performing groups. All these activities and many more made it complete. School had begun.

Student Council spent most of the beginning of the school year planning for Homecoming '76. The general theme was The Silver Screen with motion picture titles representing each event of the Homecoming week. Bryce Goeking and Christine Scott reigned as King and Queen. Other royalty included Brad Bartholomew and Jennifer Derschang as senior attendants. Underclass attendants were juniors Steven DeLauter and Robyn Pierce, sophomores Ronald Cooper and Dawn Hargis, and freshmen Carroll Cole and Robyn Davidge.

Powder Puff and Parade Draw Crowds

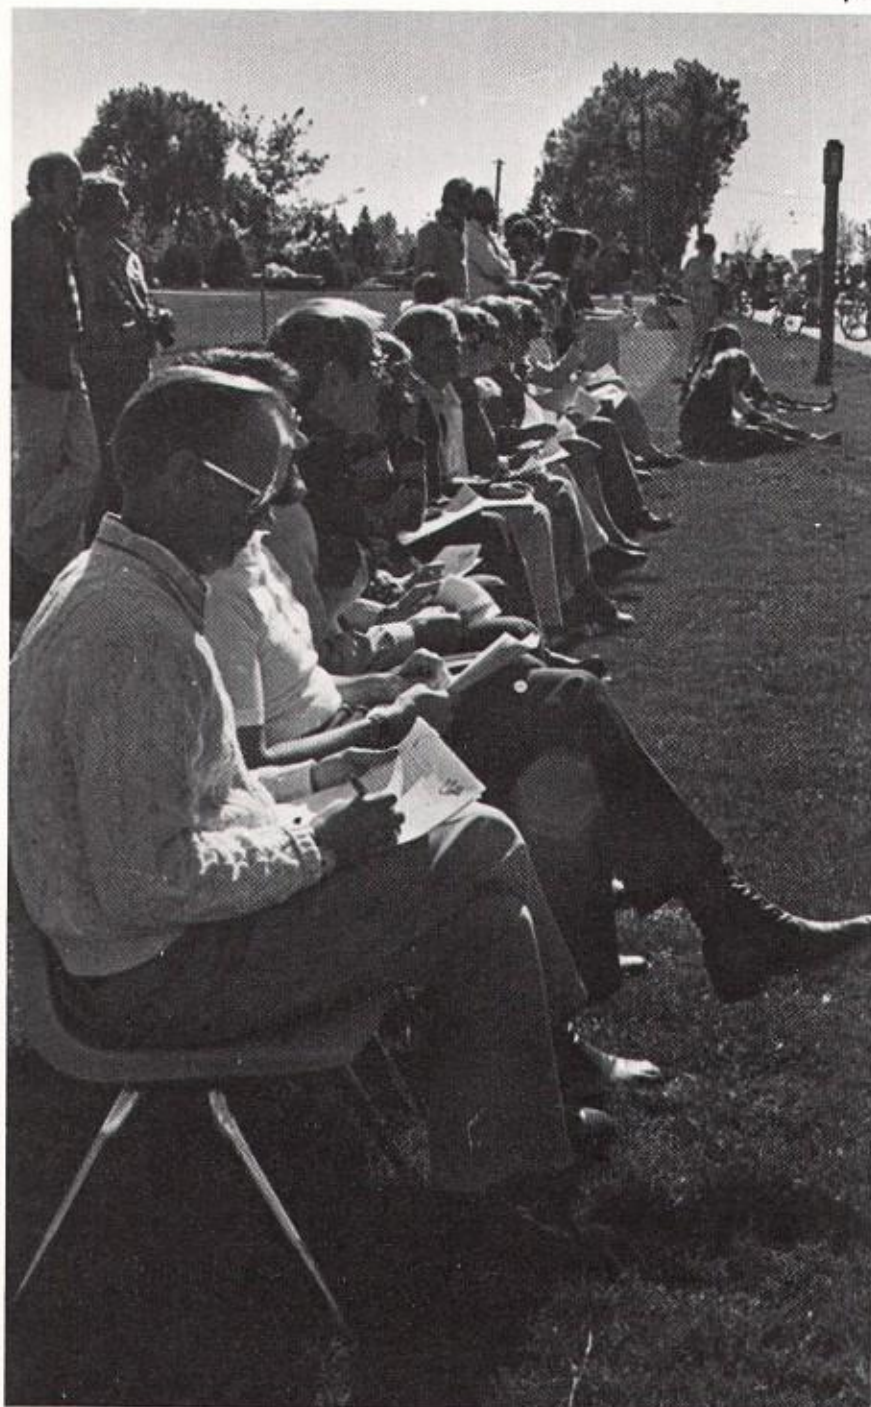

The pantyhose were abundant as the "Mean Machine" and the "Boozers" tackled the "manly" art of football in the annual powder puff game, "The Longest Yard." The reversal of roles Thursday night was complete with the boys dressing up as cheerleaders to cheer for the teams.

The teams were evenly matched as demonstrated by the 6-6 score. The girls found that the "Longest Yard" really wasn't so long after all.

Friday, students rushed to get floats ready and in line for the parade entitled "Showboat." The parade was led down Littleton Boulevard by the Heritage Freedom Band. The winning class float was the seniors'. DECA won first place in club competition and the girls' swim team was awarded first place in individual category.

Though Friday afternoon was over, the night was to be filled with great expectations as the Heritage Eagles met the Smoky Hill Buffalos in the Homecoming game. The final score was a disappointing 6-24.

Homecoming activities came to a climax Friday night with Heritage's game against the Smoky Hill Buffalos. The game, entitled "Murder by Death," was a disappointing 24-6 loss for the Eagles.

During halftime the nominees waited with apprehension and excitement for the announcement of the 1976 Homecoming royalty. Bryce Goeking and Christine Scott were chosen to reign as King and Queen Saturday night at Heritage's third annual Homecoming dance. "Days of Wine and Roses" was the theme, and the decorations included wine bottles filled with roses, and a three-tiered fountain.

The week of "The Silver Screen" came to an end leaving behind happy memories.

Musical Sparks Spirit of '1776'

1976 was America's bicentennial as well as Colorado's centennial year. To display Heritage's bicentennial spirit students performed the stage version of the humorous musical "1776."

The play depicted the writing of the Declaration of Independence and the lives of the men who struggled to make freedom a reality. The play required many weeks of hard work in singing, dancing, and acting to develop the characters.

However the work didn't stop there. Backstage activity helped to complete the vivid portrayal, and made it an enjoyable treat for both the audience and cast.

Senility Provides Humor in 'Arsenic and Lace'

Roars of laughter were heard with the first drama production, "Arsenic and Old Lace." The play takes place in Brooklyn during the early 1940's and is about two elderly sisters and their three nephews, two of whom are slightly crazy. The sisters aren't exactly sane either, for as a charity they kill lonely old men with poisonous elderberry wine. Teddy, one of their nephews who believes he is Theodore Roosevelt, was a special favorite of the audience.

The play progressed rapidly and had the usual surprise ending, but with a special twist. The crew outdid themselves again with an elaborate set. The acting was hard for many, because, whether old or young, their character had to seem realistic. In spite of this, the cast succeeded with an impressive performance, and had an enthusiastic and responsive audience.

Performance for Children Proves Pleasurable

A simple set and costumes established the mood of the children's play, "The Farce of the Worthy Master Pierre Patelin." The basis of the play was a one-act French farce written in 1460 by an anonymous writer.

The lead character, Pierre Patelin, was one of the audience's favorite because of his diabolical cons. The effect of his actions was felt by the draper, Pierre's neighbor, who was cheated out of his cloth. Tibald Lambkin, the poor shepherd who smelled and looked like one of his sheep, was a particular favorite also.

The plot was fastmoving because of its shortness and constantly left the audience laughing.

'Carousel' Brings Music, Spring Atmosphere

"Carousel," a musical by Rodgers and Hammerstein, was presented Feb. 17-19. The carnival scene as well as the excitement and romance of the late spring setting amused the audience.

The musical is about a loving relationship between a rough and quick-tempered bully, Billy Bigelow, and a shy and sweet girl, Julie Jordan. After their marriage, Billy finds he is unable to meet his wife's needs. When he discovers his wife is pregnant, he is overcome with pride and joy. Billy tries to raise money to provide the best life for them, and is arrested. In avoiding the arrest, he chooses to take his own life.

The large cast of actors captivated the audience with their talents in acting, singing, and dancing. The actors were accompanied by the orchestra with well-known songs such as: "You'll Never Walk Alone" and "June Is Bustin' Out All Over." Also endless hours were spent by determined students on light, costume, prop, and publicity crews. With the combined talents and efforts of the directors, actors, crews, and orchestra, the delightful musical proved to be outstanding and will long be remembered.

DECA Sponsors 50's Week

The Distributive Education Club of America used up a good amount of time and energy preparing for the annual 50's week. The school walls were covered with posters announcing the events that took place. Attractions during the week included dancing in the pit, a teachers' dance contest, and trivia questions. The persons who answered the trivia questions correctly were awarded free tickets to the highlight event of the week, the Sock Hop.

Russ Leone, sr., encountered tough competition but won the Fonzie look-alike contest, and Jan Swanson, jr., and Mark Fabian, sr., won the dance contest at the Sock Hop. AAAAY! With lights dimmed, shoes off, and music by "Randy and the Rainbows", the student body "Rocked around the clock!"

Rowdiness Emerges During Spirit Week

Excitement and enthusiasm were in the air from Jan. 24-28 as the second annual Spirit Week got underway. Student and teacher Spirit Leaders were designated to help promote school spirit and contests were arranged for students to win points for their class. The contests were clean-up day for each class, weird hat day, clash day, a marshmallow stuffing contest, and the Victory Cheer. The class with the most points at the end of the week won the Spirit Stick.

Throughout the week, seniors and juniors battled for the first place spot. The juniors had a two-year strangle hold on the Spirit Stick and were taking the competition seriously. And, the determined seniors were planning for a grueling battle in their last chance to outdo the juniors.

At the beginning of Friday's pep assembly, the seniors were leading by a narrow margin. During the marshmallow stuffing contest, Sr. Mark Fabian earned 340 points for the senior class by stuffing 34 marshmallows in his mouth. Following, was the traditional Victory Cheer. The much smaller senior class out-voiced the confident juniors, and Junior Class President Robyn Pierce announced: "Finally, after four years, the class of '77 has won the Spirit Stick!"

Band Performs at Bronco Triumph

A bright and sunny October Sunday provided perfect weather for the Heritage Freedom Band as it filled the Mile High Stadium with musical entertainment. Work on pre-game and halftime began in late summer with the students' anticipation of October 3.

Once on the field, the performers experienced what few have a chance to encounter, yes, Denver Broncos and San Diego Chargers standing right next to the band! Then the coin toss was over and the band proceeded with the National Anthem. The band did an excellent job at halftime with the Liberty Bells doing a routine to "Cumana" and the Patriots doing flag work to "Russian Sailor Dance."

With a good performance and an exciting 26-0 Bronco shut-out over San Diego the busses full of Heritage students headed home to await family and friends' approving comments.

'Once Upon a Time' — A Dream Come True

The class of 1978 started preparing during the summer of '76 for the Junior-Senior Prom. Sucker sales and concession stands were two of many fund-raising projects as they slowly counted the days, and the money, to May 14, the date of Prom.

Prom finally came and the Denver

University Student Union opened its doors to HHS couples. Decorations centered around the theme, "Once Upon a Time." For many, the highlight of the evening was the announcement of Prom Royalty followed by the traditional dance of the King, Queen, and their court.

After-Prom was held from 1 to 5 a.m. at Celebrity Sports Center where the couples participated in Pojo, bowling, and other games. Students went home exhausted but with warm feelings of contentment and satisfaction.

Emotions Vary as Seniors Graduate

Senior excitement mounted immeasurably with the approach of May 29. This was the day of graduation and marked the close of twelve years of hard work and accomplishment in school.

The seniors were responsible for planning their commencement. The theme chosen was "Corner of the Sky," and that song was performed by the Concert Choir as part of the ceremony. Royal blue and the yellow rose were the class color and flower.

Graduation was held outside on the Heritage football field as proud friends and relatives watched the seniors reach this landmark in their lives.

Proving Our Abilities

Athletes spent endless amounts of time and energy bettering their talents and striving to achieve the level of skill necessary to win. When the time of competition arrived, this skill was put to the test as the competitors reached for every ounce of strength and determination in anticipation of victory. The end result was the satisfaction gained in establishing their capabilities.

Besides making clever locker tags and practicing endless hours, Heritage cheerleaders willingly went to countless games and rooted the teams.

They urged Heritage students to join in the spirit; and because of their support they brought victory to all teams, regardless of the scores. The cheerleaders' rallying cries, spirited shouts, and lively cheers were the best examples of Heritage's enthusiasm for sports.

Bells Excite Crowd

Being a Liberty Bell meant having dancing ability, dedication devoted to practices, and creativity to make up routines. Although the routines lasted only two to four minutes, each represented many hours of work. The Liberty Bells usually practiced eight hours a week, but during football season, up to 23 hours a week.

The Bells performed dance routines during pep assemblies, and during the halftimes of football and basketball games. Some of the best performances were "Painter", "I Love Paris", and "Everything's Coming Up Roses". This year the sponsor was Miss Kathryn Luhe. Christine Scott was head Liberty Bell.

Patriots Practice to Achieve Perfection

Changing the spelling of the group's name, increasing the number of girls from sixteen to twenty-four, and performing at both boys' and girls' basketball games made being a Patriot different this year.

Practice started the first of August with choreographer Mr. Larry Rhoads helping ten hours each week. Once school started the jitters were felt in anticipation of the first football halftime. But after a few performances the flags helped the band rate high in many competitions.

The most exciting experience the Patriots encountered was performing in front of 65,000 cheering fans at a Denver Bronco game. By November the marching season was over and a two week vacation was granted.

However, it was not long before basketball season started and the small flat routines were being planned. Sponsor Miss Peg Berry helped create new ideas and formations to popular hits like "You Won't See Me," "Joy," and "Then Came You."

After the basketball season, the Patriots put their minds and nerves at rest and only concentrated on pep assemblies, and attending spring sports events.

Tracksters Improve Throughout Season

Coach Larry Lienemann worked with many gifted tracksters during the 1976 season. Senior hurdlers Matt Freeman and Gerald Arnold both gained a spot at the state track meet. Freeman qualified in high hurdles and Arnold in the low hurdles. Sr. Scott Ferguson went to state in the 880 yd. run and Jr. Dave Stapleton in high jump where he made his best height ever at 6'6". Dave also broke the school record.

As the season continued, team members began to show progress. The 1976 Liberty Bell Invitational, hosted by Heritage, was cancelled due to rain. Even though the hopes of taking a first place spot in the meet were washed away with the rain, Eagle spirit wasn't. The team members kept up their hard work and captured the first place trophy at the Adams City Invitational in May.

Tennis Team Masters Strokes and Strategy

Challenging tennis practices coached by Mrs. Jan Edinger began in March of last year, as the girls' tennis teams improved their strokes and concentrated on their strategy. Tennis games became more rewarding when the team played well, and games became more exciting as improvement was felt. The girls also felt the satisfaction of participating in doubles as well as individuals. Success was experienced when the Varsity team's number three doubles, Laurie Ondrake and Ann Rowland, '76, went to state.

A gallant effort was put together by the Varsity Baseball team as they won their last three games to finish the season with a record of nine wins, nine losses, and a third place finish in the Centennial League.

Coach Ran Railey was especially pleased with the way his players held up and played despite disabling injuries and tough opposition.

J.V. Season Best Ever

The 1976 J.V. baseball team had the best season the Heritage team has ever had. Their 12-6 record proved the strength of coaching by Mr. Ron Cady as it was his first year with the Eagle team. The powerful offense and defense provided many close games. Two close wins over Littleton, and defeating Arapahoe twice highlighted the season.

Spirit Has Key Role on Freshman Football Team

Mr. Overlin took over the coaching of the 28 freshman football players this year. Outstanding team members were Steve Stegeman, Jimmy Amps, Rusty Robins, and Phil Disney. Phil Disney did not play on the team after mid season because he broke his neck during a game.

Although the season totals were one win, four losses, and two ties, the team retained its good spirit and enthusiasm throughout the season.

Eagles Wait For Victory

The Heritage varsity football team had its work cut out for it during the 1976-77 season. Although it was not the most rewarding season as far as wins and losses, there were outstanding features. The Eagles' last encounter with the League powerhouse Cherry Creek proved their strength which had been detoured by injuries early in the season. The Eagles kept the Bruins to their lowest season score of 0-16. Following this great defensive effort, the offense came back the very next week to prove the power of the team by beating non-league Evergreen and chalking up a satisfying 35-0 win.

Inexperience Hampers Tennis Season

If one word was used to describe the Varsity Tennis season, it would be frustration. Nine players made up the team with only three returning lettermen. Inexperience hampered the season. Outstanding player Sr. Dave Jenkins showed leadership in winning the most matches.

The Junior Varsity team started the season fresh with new Coach Richard Brown, and six freshmen. With a record of 3-2-2 Coach Brown said, "The team looked strong throughout the season. We had some slumps but we came out of them with two big wins against the strong Cherry Creek and Arapahoe teams."

Jrs. Clif High and Craig Stewart both went undefeated, and Soph. Jim Lovegrove was the most-improved player.

Volleyball Exhibits Exceptional Talent

Heritage Volleyballers went a long way this year, taking the district championship and placing third in state. The Eagles' only regular season loss was to Englewood early in the season. The Eagle team, under the direction of Mr. Dan Troxel, worked well together, which showed in their victories. Outstanding players were Srs. Tammy Weatherly and Alison Harmes, and Jr. Becky Meyers.

The Volleyballers proved to be one of the best athletic teams to grow out of Heritage this year, and they contributed immensely to school pride.

Girls' Swim Team Is Inexperienced

The Girls' Swimming team consisted mostly of inexperienced freshmen and sophomores. Coach Steve Bailey said that this was the major reason that the team's win and loss record was the lowest ever. Despite the 4-7 record, the team did send five people to state competition including: Sophs. Kim Pennapacker, Val Skufca, Cindy Desch, Joy Endres and Fr. Amy Stuart. Coach Bailey expressed his pleasure of the team's progress and looks forward to a better team next year.

Cross Country Big in Numbers

Taking to the trails and streets of Littleton in the 1977 fall season, was the largest Cross Country team ever at Heritage. With thirty runners involved, an "A," "B," and "C" team competed; in past years a full "B" team had rarely been fielded.

The squad was strong not only in numbers, but also in talent. Consistent standouts were Steve Chipman and Jim Lamb, jr. Bryan Ferguson, jr., managed to compete in soccer and still hold a vital spot on the Cross Country team.

With six out of seven "A" team runners being underclassmen, Coach Larry Lienemann's harriers ended the season with great expectations for the coming year.

Soccer Has Proud Season

Heritage was well-represented by two outstanding soccer teams. The Junior Varsity and Freshman teams both had excellent seasons. J.V. went undefeated and the Freshmen lost only once. The J.V. winning streak was tarnished once when they tied Cherry Creek late in the season, but nevertheless, they finished first in the Centennial League.

Coach Randy Campbell's skill and devotion were apparent when his players took to the field. The J.V. outscored its opponents 82 to 12. Scoring was led by Soph. Jim Rapp who had 13 goals. On the J.V. squad, outstanding players were Greg Hild and Bob Vandekoppel; and most improved players were Dan Kaiser and Steve Meyers. The most valuable fr. player was Rick Semin, and most improved was Bill Spafford.

Soccer Well-Balanced

The Heritage Varsity Soccer squad, which consisted of 23 players, was coached by Mr. Tom Barbour. The team was well-balanced with excellent players on both offense and defense.

The Eagles had a slow start and a lack of scoring punch but were still able to win five games finishing the season with a record of 5-9-2. Some of the best team efforts were against Aurora Central in a 1-0 victory and a 1-1 tie against Cherry Creek, state champions.

Jr. Fred Altmix, who was named to the Second String All-League team, sr. Doug Schiff and soph. Tex Hewett were voted most outstanding players. Tim Skufca, sr., Fred Altmix, jr., and Benny Gutierrez, soph., were voted most improved players. Dave Kaiser, sr., was leading scorer with seven goals and was chosen for the Honorable Mention All-League team. Matt Lepore, sr., was also picked for this team.

Hockey Ices Young Team

This was a rebuilding year for the hockey team with many new names appearing on the roster. Among the newcomers was Mr. Ken Caton, making his debut as coach. Heritage iced one of the youngest teams in the Centennial League, with five freshmen and only six seniors.

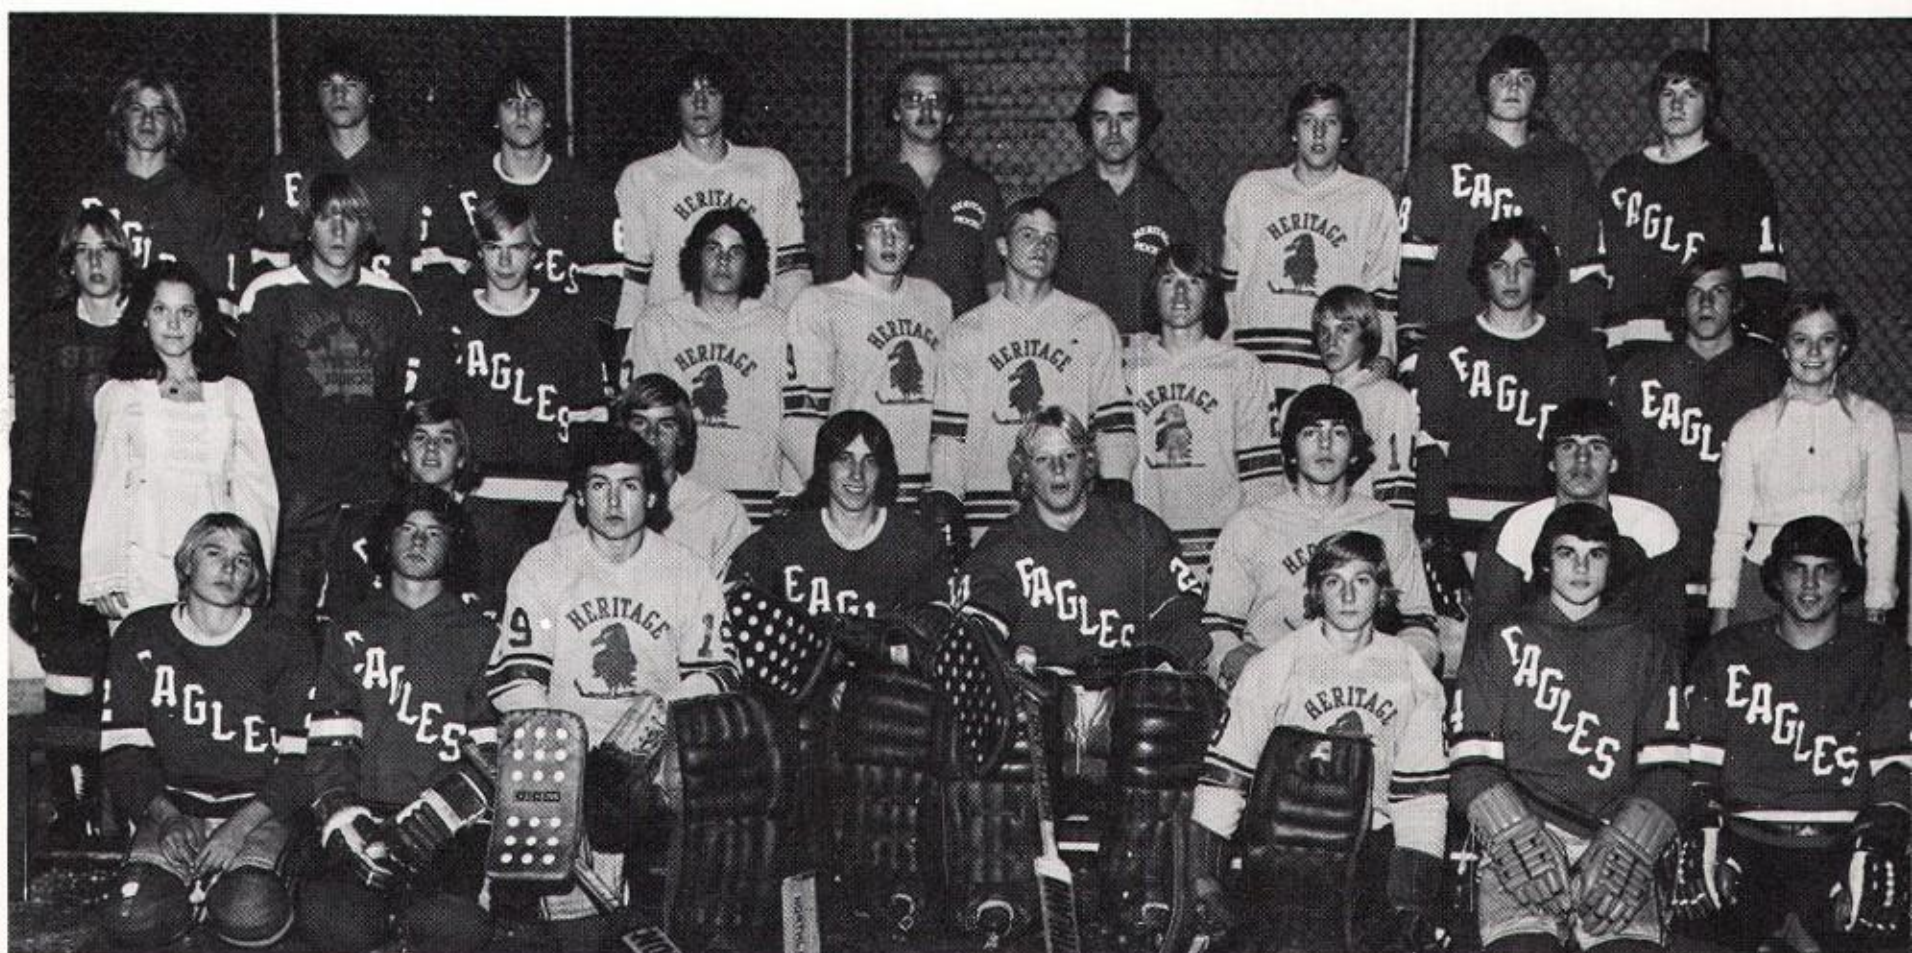

The highlight of the season was a narrow 4-3 victory over Littleton High School, the first win over Littleton in the history of Heritage hockey. A local restaurant, Bronco Burgers, even offered a special hamburger deal in honor of the win, which was also Heritage's first of the year.

Swimmers Young but Able

A positive attitude characterized the swim team and helped it to a winning record of 5-5-1. The well-balanced team was coached by Mr. Steve Bailey and Mr. Ran Railey. Though the swimmers were a young group, they showed improvement throughout the season.

Practices were geared towards endurance and speed, and proven effective as the team qualified at least one person in each state event. Jr. Craig Stewart and Fr. Bob Neuvirth proved to be the most valuable swimmers on the team. Jrs. Jim Piemme, Bob Goold, Tim Wilcox, and James Kirchner were also exceptional teammates.

Shooting, Scoring Lead to Success

"I have great admiration and respect for girls who play basketball. It takes a lot of mental preparation and work," said Head Coach Gary Gibbons.

The Varsity team had its usual strong season, dominating the South Division of the Centennial League, and going on to compete in league. Outstanding Varsity players were Jrs. Becky Meyer, Peg Kern, and Sr. Tammy Weatherly.

Junior Varsity was coached by Mr. Howard Reddick. Many new talents were discovered during their strong winning season.

Freshman Basketball Spirited, Hard Working

The Freshman Basketball teams proved to be spirited and hard working. They showed that determination and teamwork are key elements for a successful team.

Although the girls only won two of their games, they remained optimistic and high spirited throughout the season. Coach Gary Gibbons thought highly of the team, saying that they were, "Very attentive and were hard workers." One of the star players of the girls' team was Mary Ramsey who scored a total of seventeen points in one game to help achieve their first victory of the season. Teresa Curran and Ruth Lamb were also among the highest scoring players.

The boys' team ended the season with a record of eight wins and four losses (A team), and nine wins and three losses (B team). Throughout the season, the team received many compliments from bus drivers and referees about how close they were and how they hustled during games. When they lost a game, they always came right back to win.

Basketball Players Perfect Their Game

As the result of many long hours of practice, J.V. and Sophomore Basketball teams learned the intricacies of shooting, passing, and moving in their competitive sport. The sophomore forces were led by Mr. Glenn Bruckhart, who sparked his players to a fine season, despite tough opposition and a general lack of height on the team.

Outstanding sophomoes included Bart Rippey, Timothy Curran, and John Lennon. Junior Varsity outstanding players were Jon Phipps and Mike Jeske, who led the team in scoring and rebounding. J.V. players proved that hard work and dedication do make a difference. Much of their inspiration came from Coach Larry Lienemann, who encouraged each player to do his very best.

Basketball Tests Skills

"Being able to react correctly in a pressure situation and having a quick mind are some necessary qualities for playing the game of basketball," said Coach Dennis Semin. "A player must be able to make various demanding sacrifices such as training rules and long hard practices."

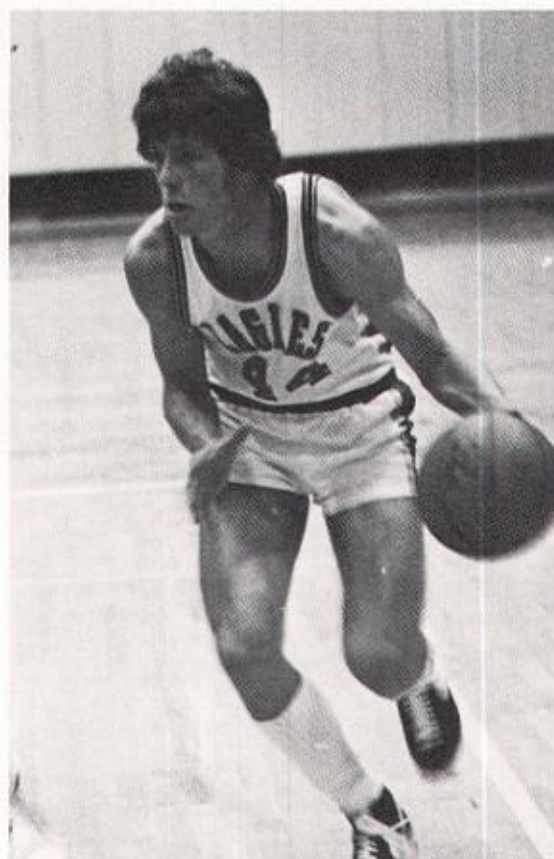

Although the team did not have a winning season the players' spirit outweighed their losses.

Named as outstanding players by Coach Semin were: Srs. Dave Stapleton, Kevin McGinley, Dave Wanek, Lance Pierce, Jr. Eric Knoll, and Fr. Rick Semin.

Freshman Grapplers Make Season Spirited

Freshman wrestling was a real learning experience for the eleven boys who participated this year. The wrestlers came from several junior high schools with little or no experience, but Coach Ralph Oliver worked with the boys and was pleased with the season. Although the team had to forfeit many matches, Coach Oliver said that team spirit could only be expressed in one word, "Super!"

Wrestling One-on-One

"Wrestling is really an individual as well as team sport," Coach John Bartelmay said of the Junior Varsity Wrestling team. During competition each athlete could depend only on himself.

Although injuries hampered the team off and on, leaving three of the better grapplers out at the end of the season, the team pulled through with an 8-4 record for the season. Two of the best wrestlers were Jrs. Forrest Diem and Jeff Hardwick—both undefeated. The team took third in Centennial League to wrap up the season.

"Pin!" "Escape!" "Stick 'em!" were cries heard from the spectators as the Varsity Wrestling team defeated opponent after opponent en route to their best season ever. With seven returning lettermen, the team showed it had both talent and experience.

Among the many outstanding wrestlers on the team, Sr. Greg Kennedy, Sr. Ken Goss, and Soph. Bert Govig had the three best win-loss records. The fastest pin of the season was made by Sr. Greg Kennedy in thirty seconds. Coach Dale Trbovich experienced some tense moments on the bench as six dual meets were decided in the last match.

Individuals

Portraits are memorable faces that will be treasured for years to come. Faces of classmates and friends, each having special characteristics different from others, blended to become united in group spirit and fellowship. As we look back, the pictures of the past will come alive once more, and individual portraits will always recall happy experiences shared at Heritage.

It is hard to say good-bye,
to leave many of the dreams of childhood,
the security of home . . .
but most of all, the friendships that have grown so strong over these years.

It is hard to say good-bye,
especially to a place you love to the many experiences that we shared the times of happiness and laughter along with the times of sadness.

It is hard to say good-bye,
but all we can do is hope for our future and hold on to the memories we have.
To say good-bye is hard,
but to leave . . .

History of the Class of 1977

In the fall of 1973 we were an uncertain flock of 400 former eighth graders, who had sacrificed the security of our respective junior high schools to become the second freshman class ever at Heritage High. However, we were the first class to be initiated, because the class of 1974 was Heritage's first senior class. The seniors were imaginative and heartless in their tortures, but somehow we survived, and settled down to the business of being high school students. We elected our first class officers and participated in our first Homecoming week. The theme was "Fall Festival" and Mark Fabian and Rachel Davis represented the class of '77 as royalty attendants.

As freshmen we had to wait until second semester to find out what finals were all about, however, few complained. The delay was due to a two week teachers' strike that left our instructors unable to prepare the dreaded exams. The year passed quickly and ended on a happy note—when we returned we would no longer be freshmen!

Our sophomore year got off to a great start with "Autumn Tapestry," Heritage's first real Homecoming (it was the first time there were any graduates who could return). Elise Peterson and Garrett Cox served as sophomore royalty. In the parade we entered a float with the theme "Stone the Panthers." Though our float lost to the seniors and our football team lost to the Boulder Panthers, we still came away with happy memories of our first Homecoming.

Our sophomore year proved eventful as the Girls' Gymnastics team finished first in the Centennial League. In early spring we organized our first dance, Sadie Hawkins, which followed a week of turnabout activities.

One of the most memorable happenings in our high school years was the 21-20 Homecoming football defeat of Arapahoe during our Junior year. That year our football team posted its best record ever. We entered our "Fire Up Eagles" float in the parade and many attended the Homecoming dance—"Twilight's Last Gleaming," where Todd Govig and Gayla Trujillo were our royalty representatives.

The Volleyball team managed to add another trophy to the case, capturing the Centennial League title and placing in state. Also, the Girls' Gymnastics team did a repeat performance, with their second straight first place League finish.

Garage sales, concession stands, and even door-to-door wastebasket sales were our methods of fund raising for the Junior-Senior Prom. After investigating many possibilities we decided on the plush Cosmopolitan Hotel in downtown Denver as the location. We chose "Dreams to Memories" for the theme of what was considered by many the best Heritage

Prom ever. With another success behind us we looked forward to the coming year, when we would be seniors on our way to graduation.

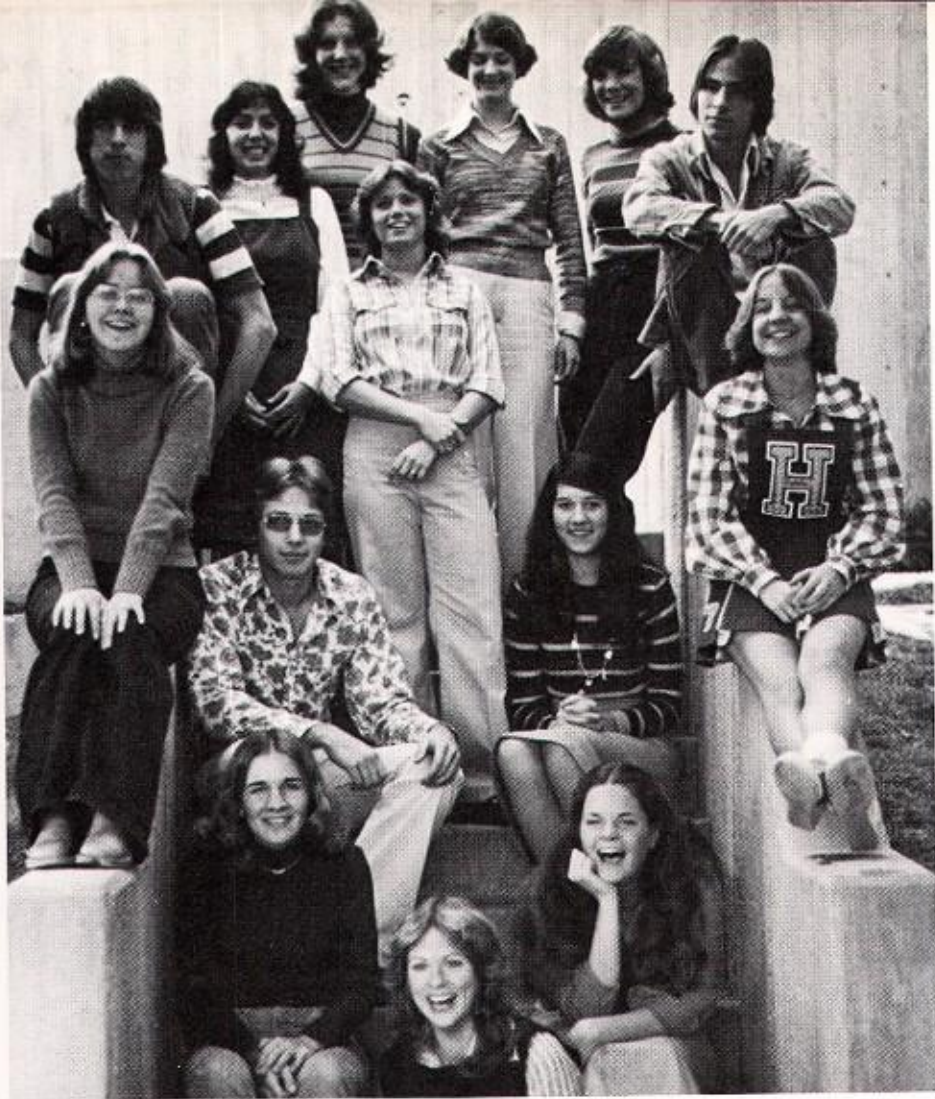

Homecoming '76, "The Silver Screen," proved exciting for the new seniors. A new found class unity was evident as we planned our activities. As many as thirty seniors per night arrived at our secret location to poke napkins into our huge float, which took first place in parade competition—our first victory as a class! The float's theme was "Cash in the Buffs" and it included an impressive eagle placing a buffalo nickel into a colorful bubble gum machine. Unfortunately, the Smoky Hill Buffalos didn't "cash in" and our football team lost by a score of 24-6. Bryce Goeking and Christine Scott reigned as king and queen at the senior-sponsored dance "Days of Wine and Roses." Brad Bartholomew and Jenny Derschang were prince and princess.

Halftime at the Denver Bronco-San Diego Charger game on October 3 was a truly exciting one for many Heritage performers. It was then that the Freedom Band, Liberty Bells, and Patriots performed for an audience of over 65,000 football fans. Another proud moment for our school occurred when the Volleyball team again took the League title and placed fourth in state.

As first semester came to a close we pulled cards one last time and made final preparations for the second annual "Spirit Week." Spirit leaders were chosen to encourage participation in the week's activities, which had been greatly expanded over the previous year. All activities were designed to provide points towards the final goal, the Spirit Stick. Meanwhile, the blood thirsty senior spirit leaders roamed the school orienting all students alike with crazy cheers and stunts. At the climax of the week, the Spirit Week Pep Assembly, the score was close between the seniors and the class of '78, but for the first time the class of '77 (the smallest entering freshman class in Heritage History) was loudest, beating the juniors in the Victory Cheer and capturing the coveted Spirit Stick.

May 14 came quickly and many seniors took part in the Junior-Senior Prom, "Once Upon a Time," held at the University of Denver Student Union. In the next two weeks our time at Heritage came to a close, but we knew that Heritage was still a part of our lives, that we would be leaving something of ourselves behind and taking something of our school away with us.

On May 29 the class of 1977 graduated on the HHS football field, and as of that day we belonged not to Heritage High School, but rather to the world.

Juniors Are Largest Class

The largest class at Heritage was the juniors with 464 students: 243 girls, and 221 boys. The juniors were responsible for putting on the final and biggest event of the year, prom. Student Council planned this event starting in their sophomore year and much attention went toward it throughout their junior year.

History Becomes Exciting

After two years of taking U.S. History, juniors received a welcome change from previously required Social Studies classes. Western Civ. classes offered an opportunity to explore cultures far removed from our own in both time and location. Devoted teachers provided activities like musical slide presentations and role playing games to give life to ancient civilizations. Students began to realize the common background between European and American societies. Most Juniors agreed that Western Civ. was definitely not just another history class.

As Juniors, the class of '78 had won the "spirit stick" an unprecedented five times in a row. In fact, they were the only class to win it since its inception in 1974, until Spirit Week '77 when the seniors snatched it. The class of '78 has proved to be one of the rowdiest classes in Heritage history.

Planning Makes Prom a Success

A great deal of preparation and hard work by the Juniors made prom an overwhelming success. Work started last summer with the organization of decorating and fund-raising committees. One of the major problems for the Juniors was deciding where to hold the dance; they needed a large place that was also relatively inexpensive. Their choice of the University of Denver Ballroom proved to be a good one. The whole school shared in the benefits of the Juniors' dedication in making the prom a success.

Juniors Speak Out Feelings

What is it like being a junior, a member of the class of 1978? Heritage Juniors expressed their feelings about this question.

"It's hard because people expect you to have a lot of spirit."—Robyn Pierce

"You start feeling like you belong to the school and you get involved in more

"I think it's great being a part of the most spirited class at Heritage."—Ginny King

"As Juniors, we have some authority around the school."—Carole Schwartz

Many were concerned about graduating next year.

Uicker, well what can I say it has been a hell of a year and next year is going to be even better. I'm really glad we got a lot closer this year and next year we are going to be the rounder bunch have a great summer in Europe and meet some one for me lots of work in everything you do you have a summer

Juniors Name Goals

As the 1976-77 school year drew to a close, juniors anticipated what their final year at Heritage High School would be like. The following quotes are what juniors planned to do for the betterment of Heritage during their senior year:

"Help baseball go to state."—Nelson Alexander
 "Keep working with Student Council."—Sarah Young

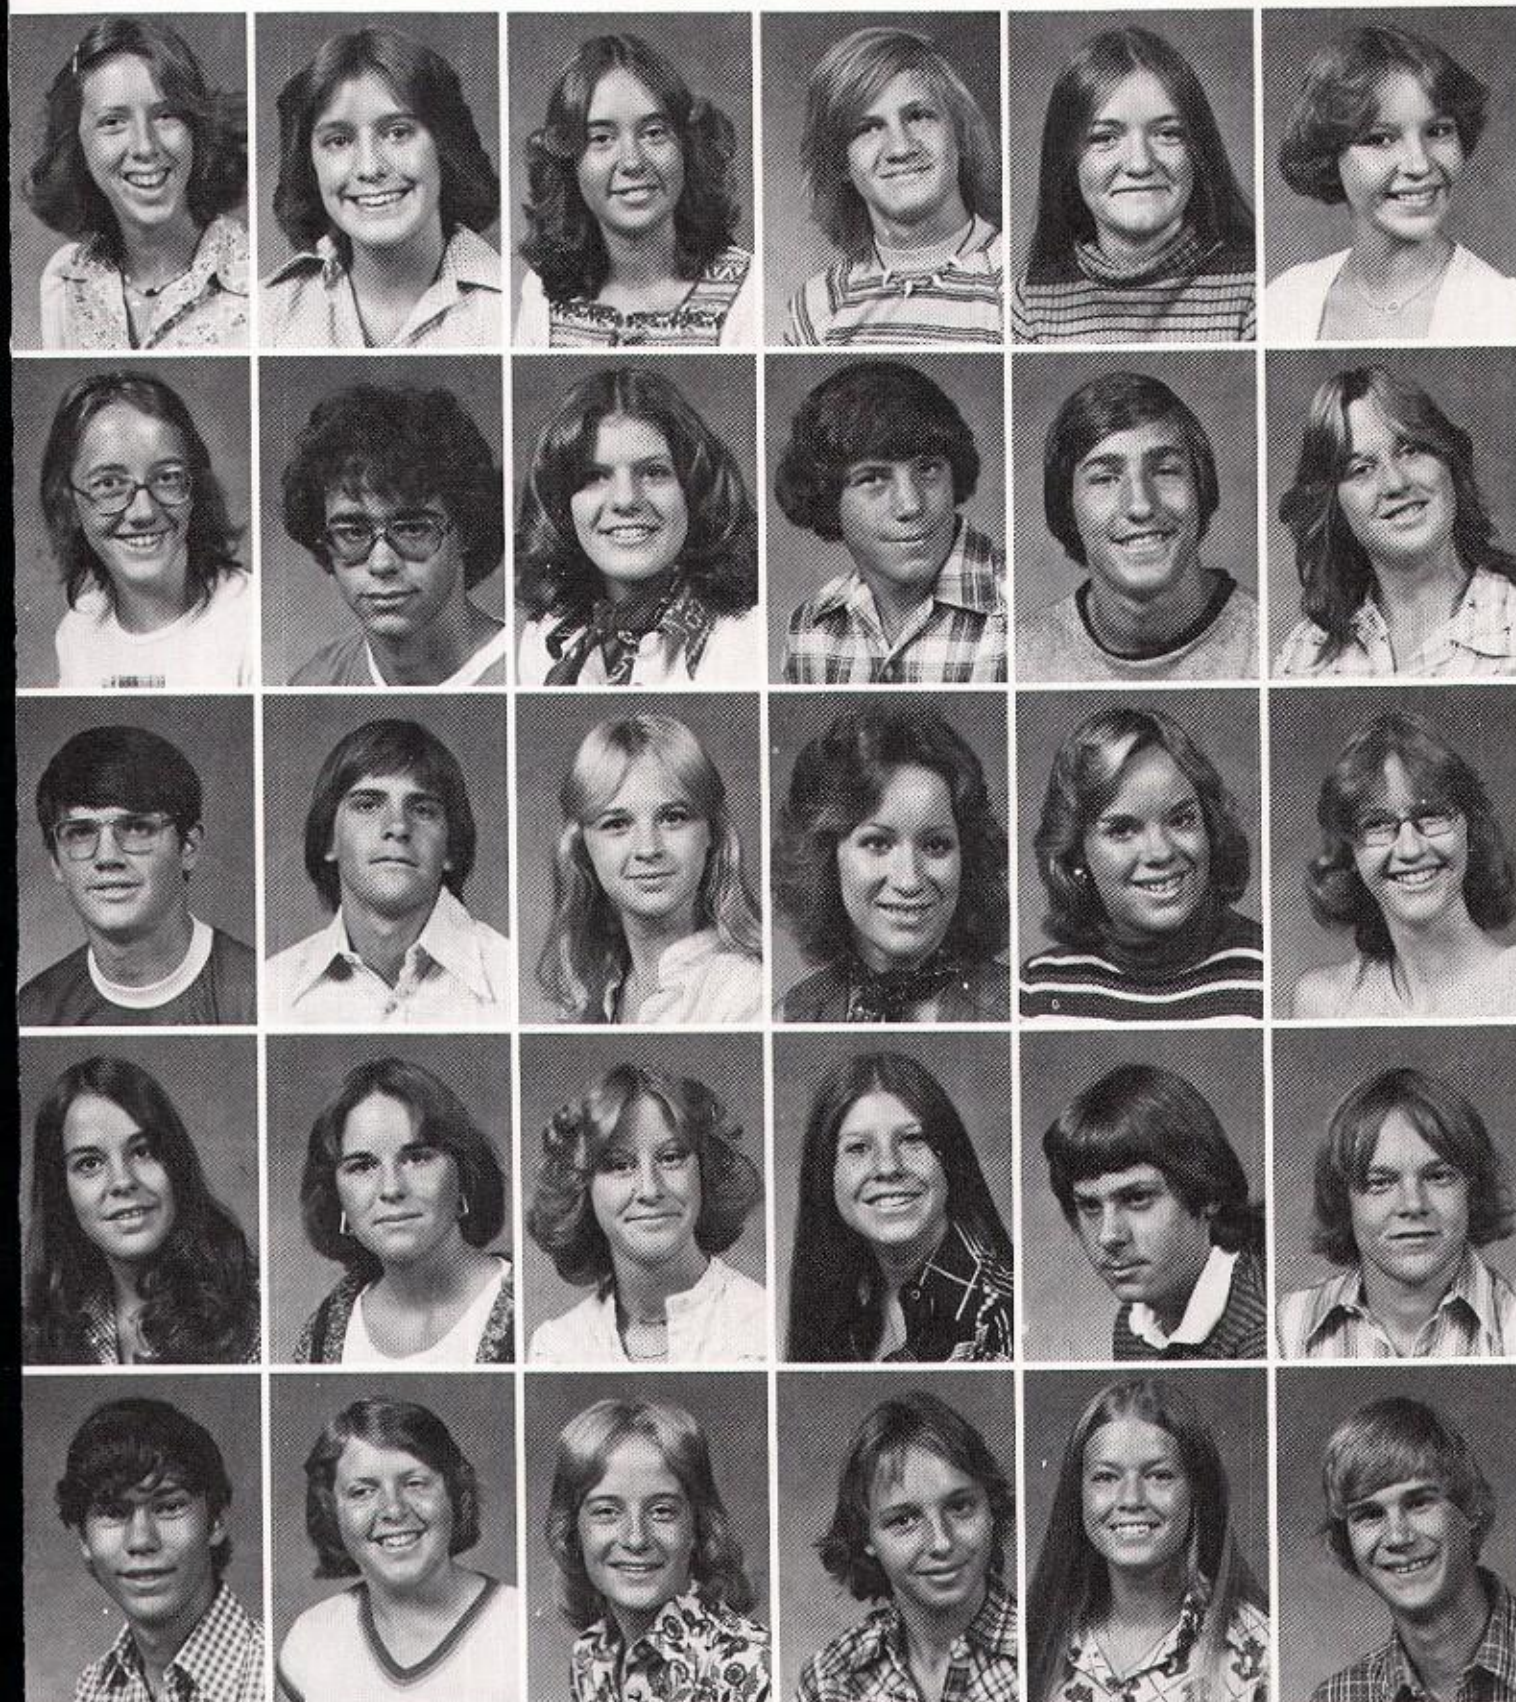

"Have everybody work together to make the school better in sports and other things."—Tammy Lovell

"Be one of the rowdiest and best spirited classes that HHS ever had and win the spirit stick again."—Katy Loser

"Try to control the class of '79."—

Lynne Romeo

"Make a meaningful year that the staff and students will never forget."—Linda Larkin.

Sophomores Get Involved

The Sophomore class consisted of 438 students. There were 212 boys and 226 girls that made up the second to youngest class at Heritage.

Sophomores were responsible for putting on the Turnabout Christmas Dance and Sadie Hawkins Week. They were busy throughout the year raising money for the prom that they would be putting on as juniors.

Sophomores Learn Five-Paragraph Paper

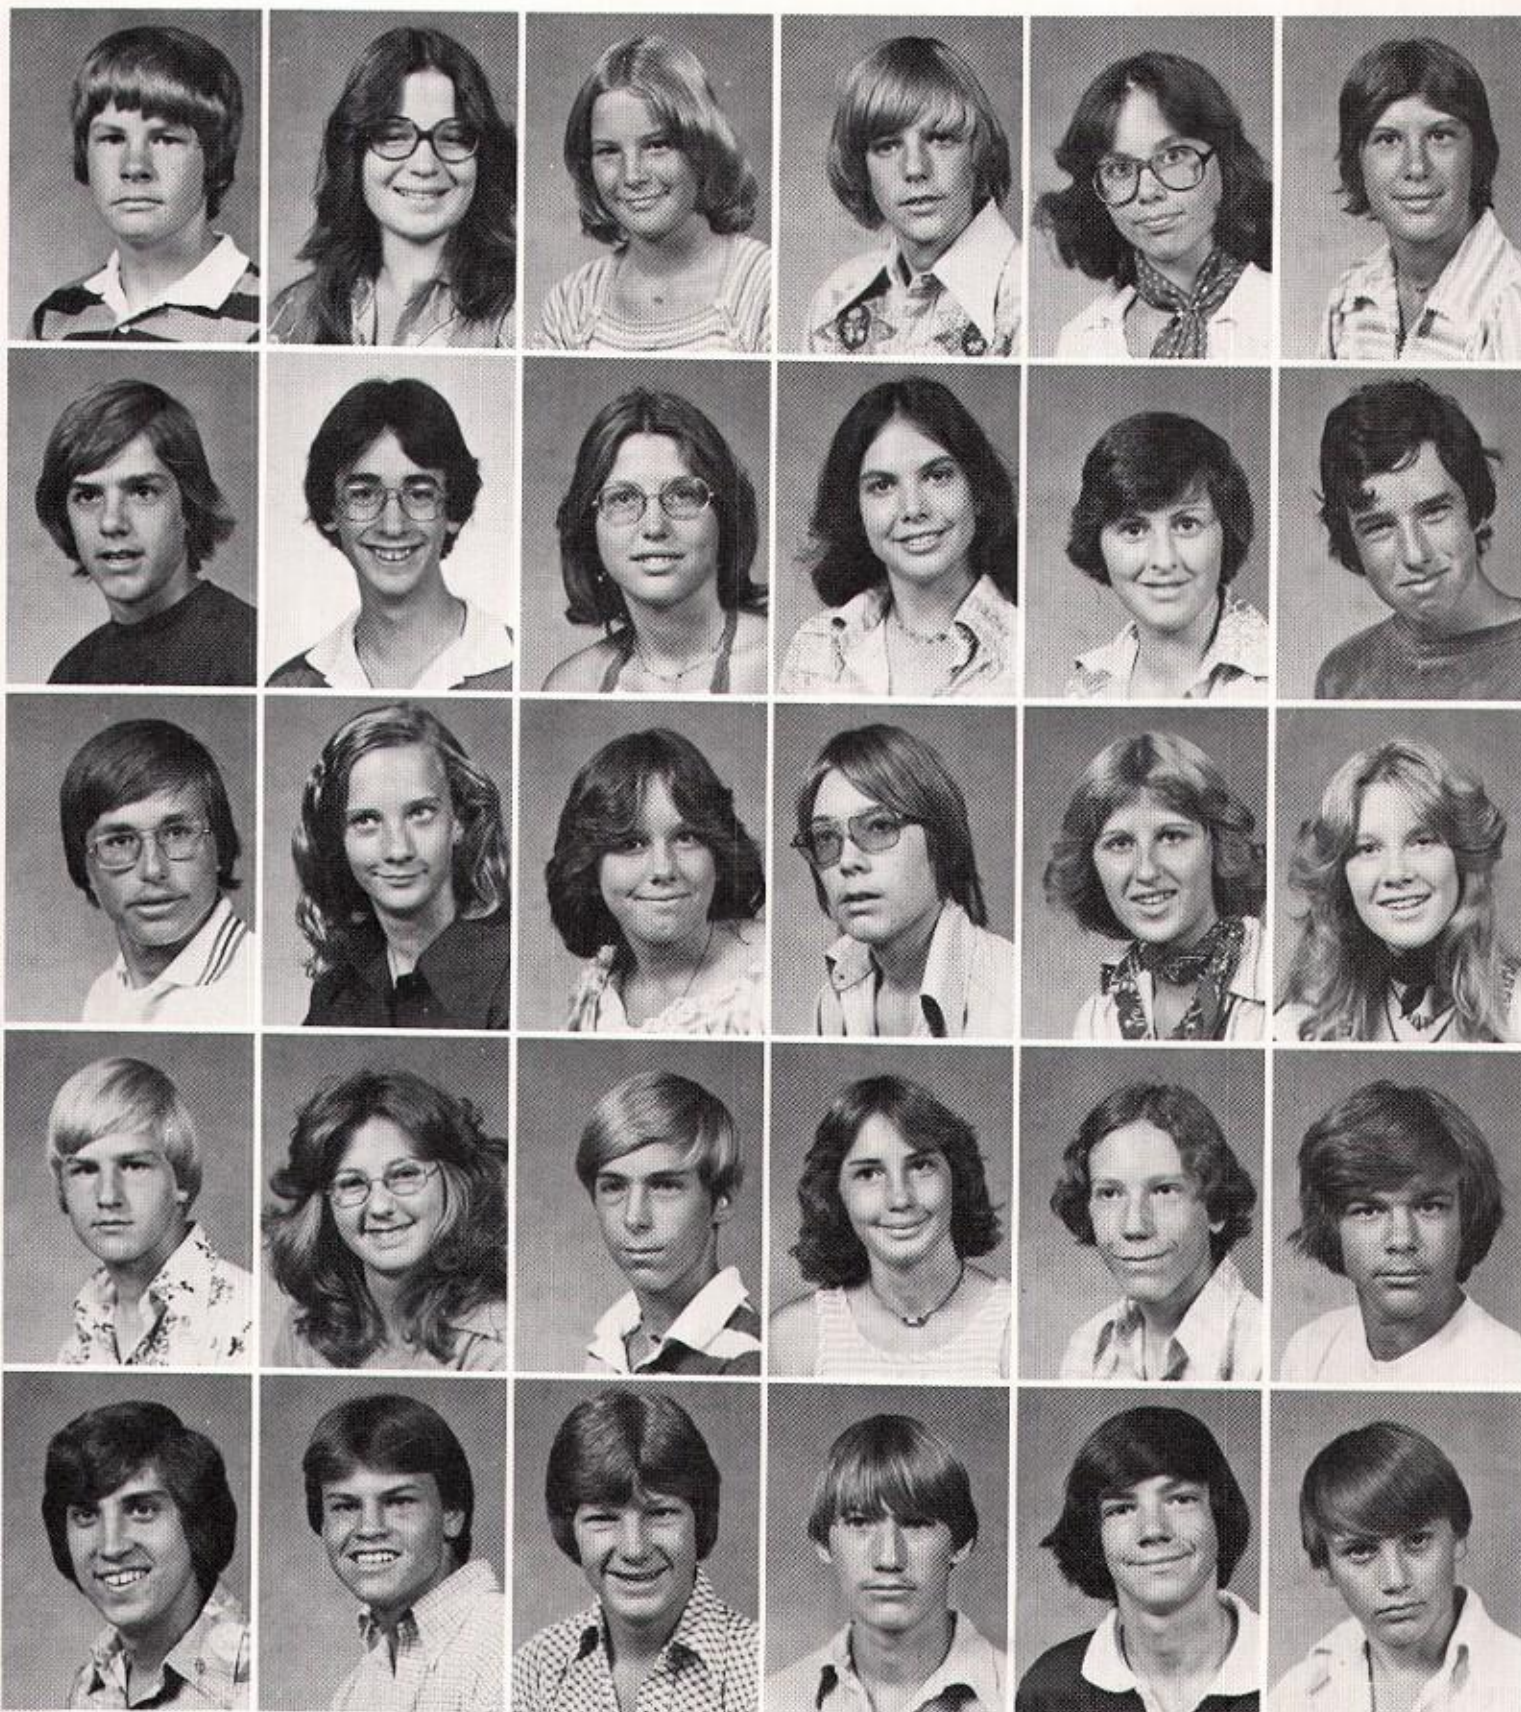

At registration, the first class that Sophomores write down is English 3 and 4. Grammar, parts of speech, sentence structure, and the ever popular five-paragraph paper are all emphasized in sophomore English.

Required books and plays consist of INHERIT THE WIND, A SEPARATE PEACE, FAHRENHEIT 451, GLASS MANAGERIE, and MERCHANT OF VENICE. Sophomore English teachers indicate that the average sophomores have problems spelling, expressing themselves verbally and on paper, and using proper grammar.

Although English 3 and 4 are required, sophomores have the choice to pursue other English electives in their later high school years.

Cars Alter Sophomore's Lives

Driver's licenses, dates, grades, boy-friends, girlfriends, and freedom. These are the most important things to sophomores when they turn 16. The driver's license heads the list of being the most dramatic changes when one turns 16. Sophomores learn about clutches and stick shifts, and how much less time it takes to go places. Because of this newly acquired skill, driving, 16-year olds discover new freedom to go more places and do more things. Going to all these places, the sophomore rarely finds himself at home. Less time spent at home usually leads to a drop in grades, unless the parents of the sophomore require him to get good grades for use of the car. This new dimension, the car, drastically changes the lives of tenth graders for the better. Any sophomore will agree that a car is the greatest thing on earth.

Turnabout Dance Heralds Christmas

Anxious girls received their first crack at asking the guys out thanks to the second annual Christmas turnabout dance. Held December 17 in the cafeteria, this dance was the product of over a month of planning and preparation by the class of '79 student council members. The theme was "Winter Wonderland"; and a wonderland enhanced by snowflakes, a Christmas tree, and hanging mistletoe decorations helped put the couples in a wintry, romantic state of mind. Music was provided by the band "Firebird". Couples found that the Christmas Dance was a suitable way to celebrate the coming of Christmas vacation.

Sophomores Reveal Thoughts

The Sophomore class is usually the first class in high school, but here at Heritage they are the second class. They were asked what they liked about being members of the class of 1979: "I don't like being classified as an underclassman."—Cheryl Hyde
"I would like to be able to take classes that are offered to juniors and seniors."
—Mike Williams

"I like having older friends."—Linda Paul

"I like going to dances but don't like not being able to drive."—Penny Brown

At Heritage for the second year, sophomores are more mature and adjusted to high school life, because they have overcome the new experiences of their first year.

Frosh Council Shows Promise

Newly elected freshman Student Council members found early success with their float entry's performance in the Homecoming parade. Success continued as they earned a reputation for their positive attitude and willingness to devote time and energy to the projects of other classes. The active group of freshman council members contributed greatly to Student Council success in 1976-77 and showed promise of future leadership.

The youngest class was made up of 206 boys and 226 girls for a total of 432 freshman students.

Frosh Orientation Is Useful

Orientation? What's that? We HAVE to take it? These questions were among many things that the incoming freshmen wondered about. Orientation was actually similar to study hall although the first few weeks were devoted to orienting the new freshmen to Heritage. The class helped the freshmen by providing a study period so they would not get bogged down with the heavier work load.

Freshmen Get Basic Education

As the freshmen filed into their first day of English they weren't aware of the work to come. The schedule for the coming semester and year consisted of grammar, vocabulary, and reading, not to mention compositions and a lengthy term paper. The freshmen read some thought-provoking novels and plays, among which were WATERSHIP DOWN, ANIMAL FARM, THE PEARL, OLD MAN AND THE SEA, RAISIN IN

THE SUN, and, of course, ROMEO AND JULIET.

Health, a course dealing with the fundamentals of first aid, was another requirement for freshmen. Health was an asset to many because it could be useful long after having finished the course. Probably the main contribution of the health requirement was to make students more safety minded.

Team Speaks Well for Class

With a record of ten wins and one loss, the freshmen had a team to be proud of. The freshmen soccer team consisted of twenty-four players and a coaching staff of four parents.

Jeff Mourning and Greg Bauer were high scorers at the end of the season with twelve goals apiece. Rick Semin and Brad Tyndall held the position of team captains. The most improved player was Bill Spafford and most outstanding was Rick Semin.

These players did a fantastic job during the fall sports season and should represent Heritage well in later years.

'Flush the Buffs' a Success

The first task assigned to the class of 1980 was to immediately start work on a float entry for the annual Homecoming parade. Despite the obstacles of inexperience and lack of time, the freshmen created a float that finished second in class competition. The float's theme was "Flush the Buffaloes", and it featured a Smoky Hill Buffalo half submerged in a large toilet with a Heritage Eagle perched nearby, ready to send the "Buff" to its doom. The positive attitude displayed by the freshmen in their first activity was to become their trademark during the entire year.

Freshmen Express Experiences

As the Freshman Class of 1980 entered Heritage, they experienced things that they never before had. Several freshmen express their feelings about high school.

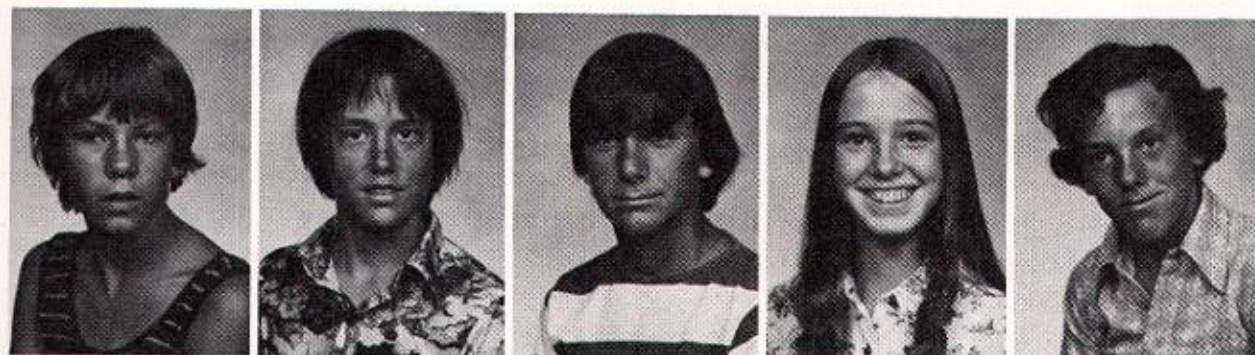

"I'm too tall for being a freshman."—
Craig Calender

"It isn't fair that some classes are offered only to juniors and seniors."—

Sandy McCarty
"It's better than junior high."— Roseanne Drake.

"Orientation is a waste of time."—Bill Eissler.

Freshmen found that their first year of high school left a great impression on them and the way that they will act for the next three years.

Shaping Our World

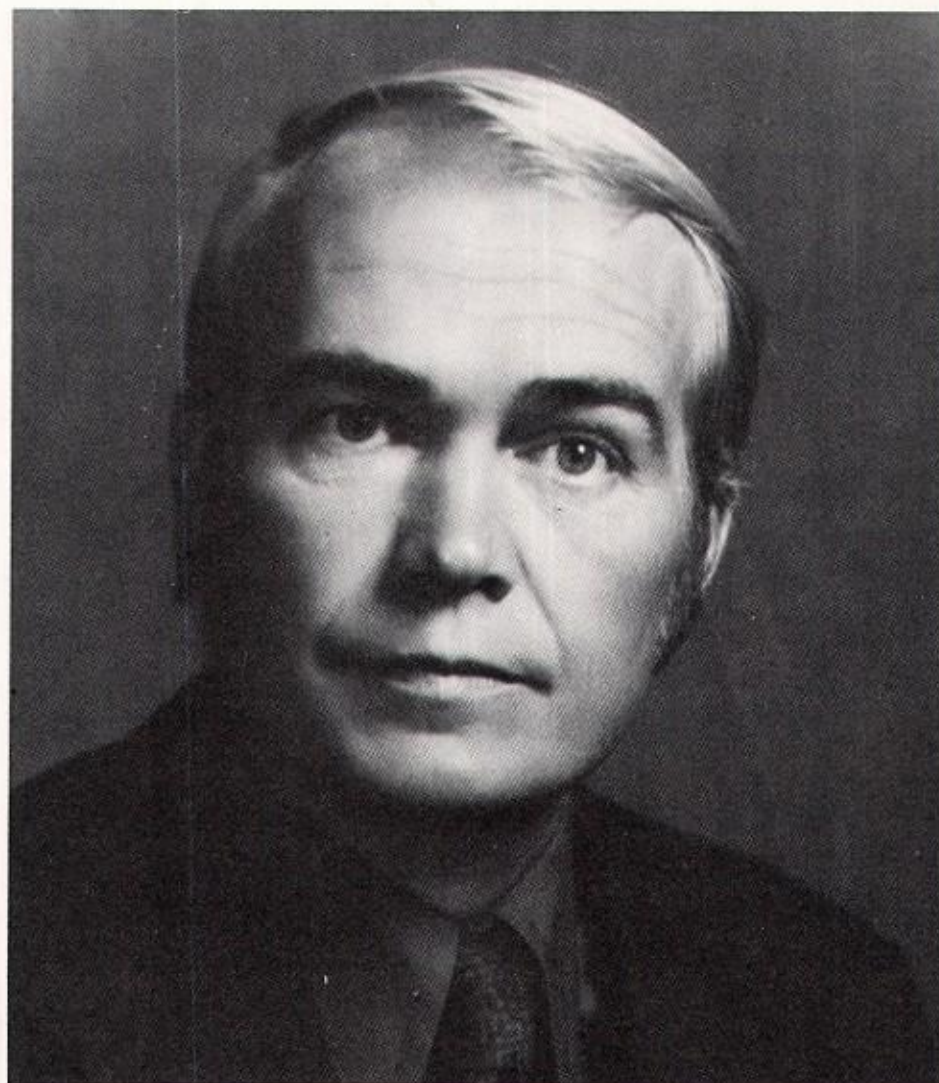

The world of Heritage High consisted of more than just students. Also there were the people whose occupation was to work with the students and provide an atmosphere in which learning could thrive. These people were the Heritage administration, faculty, counselors, and staff. The guidance they provided while we were in our high school world influenced our future in the outside world.

Principals Administer Varied Responsibilities

Years ago, principals were the "principal" teachers. Today, they rarely teach at all. This year, most of their time was devoted to management of the school, planning school curriculum, interviewing and selecting faculty members, administering the school budget, holding meetings, and establishing school rules. With these many responsibilities and obligations to fulfill, the principals found their job a challenge. The principals were also the "middle-men" between the central administration and the teaching staff. They had to put into operation policies of the school district as well as meet the needs of the teachers.

Faculty Shares Experience

Teaching may be rewarding, but the many responsibilities make it a challenging job. Every day the teachers dealt with different problems of discipline, motivation, cooperation, administrator conflicts, and parent conferences. Between classes, teachers relaxed, graded papers, planned lessons, and offered help to students.

Other staff members included the librarians and the counselors. Besides being prepared to help, the librarians had to order books, films, periodicals, and other reference material needed by faculty and students. Counselors, with their sensitive understanding of students' problems, advised students on college selection, scholarship procedures, and class schedule planning.

Together the faculty made what was probably the most important contribution to the Heritage learning experience.

Secretaries and Para Pros gave much assistance in operating Heritage. Secretarial duties included managing the attendance office, bookkeeping, and aiding the principals. These duties meant doing clerical work, calling home, screening calls, and other related tasks. The Para Pros took on the responsibilities of each individual academic department, by helping both students and teachers. Their duties included typing and checking out books and filmstrips.

The thirteen custodians this year were as important as in earlier years. When cleaning the school, the janitors spent their time wet mopping or vacuuming the halls and classrooms. Each classroom took half an hour. The head janitor was Mr. Ed Downing and Assistant Head Janitor, Mr. Bob Mossman.

This year the cooks served hot lunch for 65 cents to about 400 students each day. The staff included eleven members with Mrs. Flora Sthole as manager. During periods 3-6, students would often consume 60 pounds of meat, 15 pounds of salad, and 24 large cans of fruit and beans.

A Note to the Reader:

The purpose in the creation of a yearbook is larger than to merely provide a record of the names, faces, scores, and events that occur during a certain year. In the 1976-77 Eyrie, the staff has tried to capture a less tangible element of high school life—the feeling of belonging, of being an important part of the school. Our most lofty and desired expectation of this book is that it capture the essence of your year at Heritage, and that while re-reading the Eyrie you will discover again whatever feelings made Heritage your world.

We on staff extend our thanks to the several non-staff contributors to this book. The artwork on the cover and in the senior section appears thanks to the talented Steve Lipski. Bill Day deserves credit for his reproduction of the school crest on the front endsheet. Mike Crozier and Jerry Werth both made numerous photography contributions. The tuxedos worn by the Prom royalty candidates appear courtesy of Gingiss Formal-wear.

Vicki,
 It's been good knowing you & good luck next year
 as a senior.
 See you this summer.
 Love
 Tim Stark

Vicki,
 I still wish that we could have been better friends. Maybe next year or even maybe this summer.
 Just think BIG SENIORS
 next year, wow, stay beautiful. Very much love, June Kaylor

Vicki,
Another year & we has gone by & we Still are close, best friends. We've all gone through alot of year with our fights, disagreements, & whatever in a way I think those Brings us all closer you & I what happens & know you & I keep in touch & we'll always other is. Next year we will school the way it ~~such~~ should
But I think we all deserve are going to be seniors? Its our school to have a great Keep your head on your
